

Why are we so Violent in America?

Aurora, Colorado – July 2012... Yet another mass shooting perpetrated by a deranged individual intent on killing innocent people. Columbine, Virginia Tech – just pick your incident, unfortunately there are quite a few.

Why? The politicians would have you believe that it is our 2nd Amendment right that is causing this violent rampage. Guns are to blame, hand guns, sport rifles, assault rifles, shot guns, high-capacity magazines, large ammunition purchases, those are what they want you to believe are to blame for the rash of violence in our country today.

The media jumps on the bandwagon – and of course, our friends in Hollywood jump on the bandwagon to get rid of guns... Guns, guns, guns...

Does anybody still believe that taking guns from everyone can even happen? What about the “War on Drugs” – did that remove Cocaine and Meth from our country? Did it stop the flow of Heroin? Why would anybody believe that the Federal Government could stop the flow of illegal weapons to the criminal element if firearms were outlawed in the United States? The ATF lost control of their own “Fast and Furious” operation and a firearm was used to kill a US Federal Agent. Does anybody still believe that the Federal Government can actually stop the flow of drugs? What makes firearms different?

Speaking of this, Mexico says that our gun laws have led to their current drug epidemic. Do you believe that for a second? I don't recall the last time I could buy a fully automatic AK-47 or M-16 at a gun show in my home state without going through a Class III red tape nightmare – but the Mexican Drug Gangs are receiving and using thousands upon thousands of these weapons, so they MUST come from America, right? WRONG – they are coming from the same place that is feeding weapons to Iraq, Afghanistan, and other hot spots in the world. I'm sure a bit of that good old Mexican Government corruption is to blame as well...

The firearm industry is GLOBAL people, not just American. Mexico is receiving firearms from International Arms Dealers, not from Gander Mountain, Bass Pro, Wal-Mart, or MidwayUSA!

Who would pay for stricter “gun control”? You would, and I would, in the form of taxes... Health Care, Job Creation, and now Gun Control? How much can we be taxed? Does anybody have one idea how many people in this country make a living selling firearms or all that is related? People make ammunition, holsters, ranges, gun clubs, gun stores, cases, firearms (Smith & Wesson, Springfield, Colt, American Icons), write magazines, books, etc. These are American JOBS. Is it a good idea to put more people out of work? What about tens and maybe even hundreds of thousands of people?

But it must be the guns, right? Let me ask you this America, do you honestly think Mr. Michael “I hate guns” Bloomberg goes around without armed guards to protect him? I think not... However, it is okay for him to take our right to own firearms away because we're too stupid to own them? Ask yourself the same thing about the Chicago Major, the State of New Jersey Government Officials, or (for that matter) the President of the United States. If they outlaw guns, do you think any of those people will disarm their guards? Do you really?

So – what is the reason for our violent nature here in the United States of America? Did you know that the average American Child sees thousands of murders before the age of 15? Would you believe the average American Child murders hundreds upon hundreds of people/animals/aliens by the age of 15?

Our media would have you believe it is guns – but that isn't our chief violence export... Our television, movies, and video games are teaching our young people to be cold blooded killers. Lt. Col Rex Grossman has already pointed this out (http://killology.com/book_stop_summary.htm).

Our elected leadership would rather take away our freedom to achieve their political gain than to take on the people who pay for their election campaigns (Hollywood and the Media). When was the last time you heard anyone in the media ask what kind of knife was used in a murder? How about what kind of beer a drunk driver was drinking before committing a vehicular murder?

How many of our rights are we willing to give up for the sake of "safety"? What is next, our Freedom of Religion, Speech?

Real change to our violent nature needs to be addressed at the root cause. That root cause is NOT firearms, it is our entertainment industry. The next time a gun grabber wants to take away your freedom, point out this bit of information. Remember, if you choose not to vote for your Freedom, YOU are responsible for losing it. Vote 2nd Amendment for the upcoming elections – and DO NOT BE FOOLED.
